ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Mayor:
W. W. HARRIS.
GEO. E. HADLEY.

ELEVEN RULES FOR HEALTH.

Good Air.—Avoid badly ventilated, badly lighted, dusty, overheated, crowded or damp rooms.

Avoid House Dust.—Breathing dust, notably house dust, often causes disease. Have no tacked-down carpets or matting; use rugs, not attached to floors, and clean them frequently in the open air. Lower the upper windows when sweeping or dusting; keep the lower windows down. Never sweep with a broom, that raises dust.

Pure Water.—Drink pure water; avoid water from shallow or unprotected wells and from ponds and streams. When in doubt, boil the water. Shun public drinking cups.

Safe Milk and Cream.—Tuberculosis, typhoid fever and other disease are often caused by drinking dirty, raw milk or cream. Investigate your dairyman. Patronize the dealer with clean, up-to-date methods.

Keep Clean.—Take a tub bath or a sponge bath every day. A warm bath should be followed by a cool shower.
Use soap freely. Wash your hands before handling food. Don't put fingers, money, paper or pencils in your mouth. Don't bite your finger nails.
Clean your teeth morning and evening.

Food.—Don't eat raw food which has been exposed to flies or dust or touched by unclean hands. Fruit or vegetables should be rinsed or washed thoroughly with pure water before eaten raw. Chew your food well.

Sleep.—Get enough sleep. The average adult requires not less than eight hours sleep. Sleep with the bedroom windows open, or, better still, sleep outdoors.

Head Up.—Sit and stand erect.
Practice deep breathing. Breathe through your nose.

Exercise.—Take plenty of outdoor exercise. Avoid excess in athletics—it may cause heart trouble. Don't eat or drink while overheated from exercise.

Colds.—Don't neglect coughs or colds. If you do not recover as quickly as you should, see a doctor, or go to a dispensary for advice or treatment.

Never cough, sneeze or breathe into another person's face. Don't spit on the floors, sidewalks or street cars.
Sunshine.—Permit sunshine to flood your home and admit it into your life.
Cultivate cheerfulness and kindness —it will help you to resist disease.
Your state of mind has much to do with your state of health.—Chicago Post.

Speaking of the trusts, corporations, the robber tariffs and other inequalities increasing the burdens of the masses as against the classes, made possible under our present form of government; the greatest curse to the people, the greatest injustice and the greatest burden laid on the shoulders of the taxpayers of this country, is our iniquitous pension system. It has been forty-seven years since the war closed, and instead of decreasing the pension roll is constantly increasing, and the taxpayers are now called upon to pay annually $200,000,000 in pensions. A reform of the pension list is the most important measure that confronts the statesmen of the United States.

A. A. Farley, salesman for a St.
Louis house making a specialty of imported silks, linens and dress goods, was here this morning doing business with our merchants. He says Navasota is one of the very best cities in Texas—and he's eminently correct.— Navasota Examiner.

You will note that Colonel Farley says "one of the very best," in speaking of Navasota, which is correct. But when it comes to "the very best," the colonel and all the other traveling men are agreed that there is but one, and that is Bryan.

Secretary of War Stimson recommends that the Mississippi river be harnessed and the power thus produced would bring a revenue sufficient to keep up all levee repairs. The idea is a good one. We are not wide-awake enough to our natural advantages. We should learn a lesson of progressiveness from the fellow who crossed his bees with lightning bugs so they could see how to work at night.

"Court's adjourned so the 'gentlemen of the jury' who are ladies, can go home and cook dinner for their husbands," is the latest wrinkle in court procedure. This actually happened a few days ago during the trial of a case at Twin Falls, Idaho.

In planning for the joyous Christmastide that is almost upon us, let us not forget the deserving poor within our gates. Happiness is not from without, but from within, and the more we do for others the greater will be our own happiness and blessings.

Secretary Meyer of the navy department has asked for three new battleships in his annual report. The old ones, we presume, are out of date.
Our battleships are getting to be like our automobiles: it is not good form to sail a 1912 model in 1913.

Our juries are natural born sympathizers. The latest example comes from Dallas, where a jury just simply shed crocodile tears over the story of a poor, pitiful woman who had not done a thing in the world but murder her husband.

The Store For Values in Men's Apparel

As long as we fall to stick together, we'll stick in the mud, and stick in everything else that should be straightened out and cleaned up in order to assist the growth and prosperity of Bryan.

The happiest season of all the year is now at hand for the children. They are already writing letters to Santa and talking in whispers. Bless the children, they keep the world young.

It cost more than a million dollars to elect Woodrow Wilson president, but no doubt the patriots who have already heard the bell ringing at the pie counter think it worth the price.

THE BRAVEST LIVING MAN.

The bravest man in New York made his appearance in a Broadway store one day last week. He carried an enormous bandbox which contained an enormous hat, on which the man wondered what he considered an enormous amount of money refunded. The man was pretty mad, and, while looking for someone who had the authority to negotiate the transaction, he talked loud enough for everybody to hear.

"My wife bought this hat," he said.
"She doesn't need it. She has already bought three hats this spring. She paid $35 for this one. She has never worn it. It just came home last night.
I can't afford to throw all that money away, and I want you to take the hat back. She wouldn't bring it down, so I undertook the job myself."

"By the side of that man Napoleon Bonaparte was a cringing coward," said the young woman who had made the sale. "Imagine Napoleon flouncing into a Parisian millinery shop with a hat that he didn't want Josephine to buy! He could not have done it."
—New York Times.

Today is the day for me—the present is always ours; I'll hump like a bumblebee that rustles among the flowers; all thoughts of the past I've spurned, all sighs for the days of old; for yesterday's wood is burned, and yesterday's stove is cold. The present is in our grasp, for glorious deeds or crimes; then why do we sit and gasp and yearn for the good old times?
The past is beneath the sod, we have but this flying our; for yesterday's ice is thawed, and yesterday's milk is sour. Let's gather a store of plums, each doing his level best, so that when the evening comes and brings us hours of rest, our neighbors may see the junk for which we have wrought and toiled; for yesterday's drinks are drunk, and yesterday's eggs are spoiled. Tomorrow is but a ghost, and yesterday's but a dream; to work with the hustling host—there isn't a better scheme. So gambol and dance and sing, and gather your store of rocks; today is the vital thing, today is the stuff that knocks. For yesterday's birds are gone, and yesterday's fish is hooked, and yesterday's hat's in pawn, and yesterday's goose is coked.—Walt Mason.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Many a great man has exclusive knowledge of the fact.

The more a man knows the easier it is to keep his face shut.

Many a man fools himself when he thinks he is fooling his wife.

Distance never lends enchantment to the office seeker's view.

Sometimes a young lawyer makes good because he has a wife who lays down the law to him.

Mr. Farmer!

You need to measure the time carefully.

Hunger is not always the real call to meals nor is the sun a sure standard for your help to start work and quit by.

25.00 Elgin

It has a dial you can easily read in a dim light—it's care-
